

Nicholas Patterson

While this is my first year of coaching at any age level I do have a wealth of experience in the volleyball world. I began playing volleyball at the age of 15 for Fairborn High School. I played 2 years of Junior Olympic Volleyball while in High School as well. Upon graduation, I decided to attend the University of Miami and played Club Volleyball at the university for three years during which time my squad finished top 5 at nationals two years running. I graduated from Wright State University with a degree in Management from the Raj Sooin College of Business and am currently attending WSU in pursuit of a Masters Degree in Program Management.
